'In the City' highlights Ultimate Frisbee, Bark Park, Boro Beach, more

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. – The June 2016 edition of 'In the City' is chalked full of good ideas for the summer, including a way you can record your opinion on what you want to see in downtown Murfreesboro, Ultimate Frisbee, a new Bark Park, Boro Beach and RAD Summer Camps.

These are just some of the of the stories featured in the June 2016 episode of "In the City," Murfreesboro's video magazine show hosted by Cecilia Herrell. In the City is available on YouTube at <https://youtu.be/etBBBqK9-Bo>. Watch "In the City" online anytime, or on CityTV (AT&T Uverse Channel 99/Comcast Xfinity in Murfreesboro on Channel 3) everyday at 8:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Airing throughout the month of June, 'In the City' features:

- The newest sports league featured through the Murfreesboro Parks and Recreation Department. The Ultimate Frisbee League features seven-on-seven teams with a mix of physical ability, teamwork and low impact competition characteristic of soccer and rugby.
- Learn more about Murfreesboro's newest Bark Park, the second in the City. Located at the Cason Lane Greenway Trailhead, the off-leash area includes a water fountain. For more information visit www.Murfreesborotn.gov/parks.
- RAD Summer Camps for kids provide self-defense techniques and scenario-based training along with fun activities in June and July. Call the Murfreesboro Police Department to register.
- The C.H.O.W. buses are rolling again. For the 14th year, the Murfreesboro City Schools Summer Meals Program is feeding children 18 and under. For times and locations, visit the MCS website at www.cityschools.net.
- Boro Beach is open for another summer with some new features. Aquatics Coordinator Kyle Goss explains the work behind getting the pool ready and shows a team of life guards to keep swimmers safe.
- An old-fashioned Chalkboard is gathering ideas from Murfreesboro residents on what they want to see in downtown Murfreesboro. Located at One East College Street, there's still time to record your opinion.
