FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: November 11, 2016

'In the City' features North Murfreesboro Greenway, Firehouse Expo, more

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. – The November 2016 television magazine show, 'In the City,' takes you on a tour of the new North Murfreesboro Greenway as finishing touches are added to the new stretch of trail from Walter Hill Park to a new trailhead at Central Valley Road. November's 'In the City' is available on YouTube at https://youtu.be/8tmdi_b2JOs.

The sneak peak of the new 1.34-mile all-asphalt pedestrian trail features a tree canopy throughout, beautiful overlooks of the Stones River, and a connection to a 1.78 equestrian trail at Central Valley Road. An official ribbon-cutting opening is scheduled later this month.

The November 2016 edition of 'In the City' also features a report on 'Moving Forward,' a 2016 mass transit plan for the Middle Tennessee region. State and City leaders gathered Oct. 27 to discuss details of the transit solutions as commuters and businesses confront the problems of major traffic congestion, wasted fuel, and lower worker productivity. To learn more about the transit plan, visit www.movingforwardmidtn.com.

Airing throughout the month of November 'In the City' also features:

- The 2016 Firehouse Expo attracted some 10,000 firefighters from across the nation to the Music City Center in Nashville. The Expo included hands-on training for firefighters at the old location of the Franklin Heights housing complex, utilized as the location transitions to the new Public Safety Training Center.
- Learn more about MFRD's Basic Life Support (BLS) from Assistant Chief Kim Lawson who shares how the new emergency response is saving lives in Murfreesboro. Firefighters trained in BLS are now approved to utilize new medications and emergency equipment such as Advance King Airway, Intravenous (IV) Fluid, Epinephrine injections, breathing treatments, Nitroglycerin, and Dextrose.
- An update on Bridge Over Broad provides the latest details on completed work and scheduled work planned by Bell Construction, including construction of the northwest ramp and footings for the new bridge. For more information, visit www.tn.gov/tdot.

-(MORE)-

- With a new Food Truck Ordinance officially adopted by the City Council, In the City provides reaction to the anticipated policy and a listing of the Parks & Rec 'Food Truck Fridays' for November.
- The November magazine show also features newly promoted Assistant Planning Director Matthew Blomeley, the latest progress on Miracle Field at McKnight Park, and more.
